Club Improvements

If you've been noticing improvements around the club lately, be sure to thank Kyle Taylor. He has been hard at work the last few weeks, painting, installing lights in the banquet rom, plumbing, hanging shelves, and general maintenance & repairs. Here are a few before & after pictures of the work he has been doing.

State Charity Gun Raffle

The Nebraska State Aerie is selling tickets for the State Charity Gun Bash to be held on December 8th , 2018 at the South Omaha Eagles Club #154.

The Gun Raffle will be raising money for the State Charity, The Eksoskeleton. The Gun Raffle will include 50 guns.

Tickets for the raffle will sell for $20 each. Holdrege Eagles Aerie has 2 books of tickets for sale for the Raffle.

All ticket buyers will need to hang on to your stubs because they are what gets you into the drawing on December 8th. Your stubs will also get you in to enjoy the free pulled pork dinner and other activities planned for the night.

This is a great State Charity and we hope everyone will take part in the raffle and the festivities in Omaha in December!

The Fraternal Order of Eagles Eksoskeleton Project

The Fraternal Order of Eagles' Lew Reed Spinal Cord Injury Fund is partnering with Ekso Bionics and SoliderStrong to help raise money to purchase Ekso suits to benefit veteran rehabilitation facilities.

As of 2009, there were 42,000 Veterans receiving medical care for spinal cord injuries (SCI) from the VA in this country. These men and women volunteered to serve their country and were severely wounded in combat. Now, we have the opportunity to do something to give back. Something that will allow them to stand up and walk. Something that will allow them to stand up and give their loved ones a proper hug and kiss. Something that will extend their lives and reduce their medical problems and expenses for the rest of their lives. Take a minute to watch the video above to fully understand the impact the bionic exoskeleton equipment can have on these brave men and women, their spouses and their children.

Benefits of Using the Exoskeleton

Better bowel and bladder function. This will help reduce urinary tract infections, a common problem for people in wheelchairs.

Physiological and psychological gains. The ability to find their personal height again and being able to stand and hug their loved ones gives a great emotional lift.

The increased movement of muscles.

Prevents joints from locking and growing together

Pressure sores are relieved and avoid becoming infected. Skin Breakdowns are reduced.

Digestive system shows improvements.

Please schedule a Spinal Cord Injury benefit at your Aerie and make it a point to invite and include your local Veterans groups. Then invite them to become members. Be sure to play this video at your fundraiser so everyone can see the benefits to the users of this equipment. When your event is complete, please send the funds raised to the Grand Aerie and earmark them for "Spinal Cord Eksoskeleton Fund". Each time enough funds are raised, we will purchase another unit for a rehab facility where a veteran will receive use of it. We plan to determine where the biggest needs are and equip that area first. All units we purchase will include the FOE emblem.

Beam-isms

This bit started out as the drunken philosophies of our own Mark Beam aka The Great Beam-zini! It has evolved over time to include the philosophical commiserations of many of our Officers and Friends! So, without further ado, here are a few more Beam-isms.

1. A mother puppy dog (Nita Beam)
2. Sounds like a time I may live to regret (Darren Mues)
3. What is the difference between a combine and a concubine?

Feel free to send in any “Beam-isms” of your own to share with the rest of us.
